

Dear Parents,

I would like to introduce a friend of mine, Aunt Latty - she is our school's local advice columnist. Some of you may have noticed her, the little granny mouse sitting in her rocking chair, when you have visited the office. Aunt Latty listens as the students discuss any problems they may be having and helps them to identify their feelings and possible solutions. She is also available to assist adults with any parenting challenges they may be having.

In past years Aunt Latty visited each of the classrooms, but now that Born Learners has an email address, Aunt Latty (& Ms. Bea) would like to make her services available to your family via the Internet.

If your child would like to write Aunt Latty - please use the following format:

Dear Aunt Latty,

1. My problem is:
2. I feel:
3. I want:

If you are a parent, please use this format:

1. My challenge is:
2. I have tried doing this, but it was unsuccessful:
3. I want:

When you respond, please put "Aunt Latty" in the subject line.

Aunt Latty and I look forward to hearing from you.

Ms. Bea